REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On Septeber 29th, 1885, T. W. Lathrop, one of the earliest of the pioneer settlers of California, and a prominent figure in the pioneer history of San Mateo county, crossed the great divide to his eternal home. While never a man of great wealth, as measured by worldly possessions Mr. Lathrop was possessed of a mind and character which marked him as a leader among his fellows. Born in South Carolina and reared in the south, here was endowed with a full measure of that chivalry which marked him as a true gentleman. Early in life he was taught the valuable lesson of self reliance, and at the age of 17 was providing his own sustenance, being employed as a carrier of the United States mails in his native state. He came to California early in 1849 and went immediately into the mines, locating in Placer county. He continued at mining until 1858, when he removed to San Mateocounty and took up his residence in Redwood City. He soon assumed the duties of a deputy county clerk under his brother, B. G. Lathrop. He filled this position for a number of years, and in 1864 was appointed as undersheriff by Sheriff Keith. In 1865 he was himself elected sheriff and was twice reelected. In 1874 he removed to San Francisco where he was given the position of sergeant at armes to the San Francisco stock exchange, then a position of considerable importance, which he continued to fill until near the end of his career. Mr. Lathrop was also quite prominent in local fraternal affairs, being a charter member of Bay View Lodge of Odd Fellows and a leading member of the Redwood City Lodge of Masons. He was also active in social and religious affairs of the town.

That newspapers of the long ago were sometimes lead by their thirst for news to make rather premature announcements, afterwards requiring explanations if not apologies, is evident from the following item which is quoted from the columns of the Times and Gazette of November 21, 1885: "Two weeks ago we briefly stated that Henry was married last night. We were in error. The wedding of Wm. Henry Underhill and Miss Flora M. Shrouds took place at Petrolia, near Ferndale, Humboldt county, Thursday, November 12, 1885, Rev. P. Coombs officiating. Mrs. Underhill is the sister of the wife of Deputy Clerk and Recorder Johnston of this city, both ladies having been residents of Halfmoon Bay informer years. Mr. and Mrs. Underhill came to Redwood City this week and go to housekeeping in the residence formerly occupied by and still the property of Mr. J. C. Edgar, on Stambaugh street near Main. In wishing them a long and prosperous career, the Times and Gazette merely voices the good wishes of friends and well wishers whose name is legion."

Evidently Redwood City has declined in importance as a maritime port considerably of recent years. While today it is the home port of just one vessel of material consequence, outside of a number of pleasure motor crafts, the steamer Ellen of the Frank Tannry, an item in the Times and Gazette of November 28, 1885, would seem to indicate that water freighting was a matter of considerable commercial importance at that time and that a number of merchant craft acknowledged hailing from this city. The item, which may prove interesting reading to some, is as follows: "At resent the following vessels are plying between Redwood City and San Francisco:The schooner Caroline Dixon, Captain Harry Dixon Master, 100 tons burden, is about eleven years old and has been running here since she was built; she carries hay and grain from the Hanson warehouse as her general cargo, and someitmes brings lumber from Mr. Hanson's San Francisco yards. The schooner T. Alonzo, Captain James Terkelson, 45 tons burden, is some 20 years old; she is owned by Messrs S. Hansen and Joshua Lathrop; its usual cargo is wood, though she sometimes runs to and from the tannery, bringing hides and other supplies and taking away leather. The schooner Cornelius, John Christ owner and Captain Henry Koopman acting master, of 35 tons burden, was rebuilt from the keel up about a year ago and the name changed, she being formerly known as the Ellen Maria, her usual cargo is wood to San Francisco and brick, cement and general merchandise from 'Frisco. The sloop Julia, 45 tons, Captain Peter Brown master and part owner with Charles Hanson, was completely rebuilt some two years ago; the original vessel, which is nearly 25 years old was built in France and shipped on a sailing vessel to this coast. Her usual cargoes are grain to the city and lumber to this place. The above named fleet comprises all the vessels running here regularly and owned in Redwood City. Besides these ther are some ten vessels which come here frequently. but are owned elsewhere." The sloop Julia referred to in this item had something of a history that might be of interest to boat enthusiasts. The frame of the vessell was made and fitted in France and was shipped to San Francisco in 1850 and was put together by two Frenchmen who were her owners and builders. Her first trip was up the Sacramento river, but on the trip up she ran upon a rock and filled with water. She was brought back to San Francisco and in 1852 was sold to Peter Baker and put on the run to Redwood City. She changed hands a number of times and in 1881 Peter Brown, her then owner had her stripped of her planking and rebuilt of Puget Sound pine. When the change was made it was found that the original timbers, which were of French oak, were in as good condition as the day she was first launched. It is stated that between the time of her first trip to Rdewood City and the date of her remodeling, she made no less than 1843 trips from this city to various points.

A DANGEROUS EXPERIMENT

Proposals to amend the constitution of the state seems to have been one of the fads of the last legislative session, and as a consequence the people are confronted with an extensive array of suggested changes in the fundamental law of the state. Before setting the stamp of their approval on these proposed amendments, it behooves the voters to give each careful consideration that well digested systems be not uselessly disturbed. Some of these proposed amendments are undoubtedly wise and are necessary in order that our system of government should be brought abreast with modern conditions. At the same time, some of the proposed changes are either unnecessary or pernicious.

Among the latter class would seem to be Assembly amendment No. 26, which proposes to either do away with or radically change our present system of inferior courts, a system which has been in vogue from the foundation of our state government. If this amendment should be adopted, justice courts would cease to be a constitutional part of the judicial system of the state. Thus it would be at the whim of each succeeding legislature to make fundamental changes in the important granch of our judicial system. This certainly appears to be a proceedure fought with the possibility of grave consequences.

The justice courts as are now constituted are the tribunals of the common people, the courts to which they go with confidence for the settlement of their minor differences. The method of proceedure in these courts is well marked out and are within the comprehension of every citizen. It is not necessary to be learned in the intricasies of general law either to institute or defend an action before these courts. That in the past these courts have proven satisfactory is clearly shown by the comparatively small number of cases in which appeals have been taken to the higher courts.

Nor is there any force to the possible argument that the present law does not require that the justice of the peace should be an attorney or one qualified to practice law before a court of record. For such qualification there can be no necessity. With the constitutionality of any law justices of the peace have no concern. They have but to deal with the law as it appears on the statute books and to determine upon the facts of minor differences as presented. In other words to act as arbitrators in small disputes between man and man.

For this reason it is best that the justice of the peace should be a man of the people, selected directly by the people of a limited district, among whom he is known and with whom he is familiar.

Certainly our present system of justice courts has proven itself both effective and expeditious in the settlement of the smaller differences among nighbors. In this it has stood the test of more than half a century, and every voter should consider well before he gives his sanction to a change, especially to one, which, as in the proposed amendment, opens the way to the removal of every prop of stability to the entire system of inferior courts—the courts of the common people.

WHAT THE PAST INDICATES

The little boom which Senator La Follette and his close coadjutors are nursing for the presidential nomination will probably cut but a very sorry figure in the next National Republican convention. From this time forward they must be regarded as without, rather than within, the Republican party. They have constantly attacked the President in every one of his leading measures, and that bitterly and violently, and even without the consistency of their own professions.

It must be conceeded that in the past La Follette has rendered some valuable public service and that he had reached a prominent place in the public interst. But of late he has been rapidly descending from that high place. That president Taft will again be the nominee of the Republican party there can be no question. With the common people of the country he is stronger today than ever before.

But if Taft were out of the question, under present conditions, this would not further the aspirations of La Follette. Under no circumstances could he be selected as the Republican leader. Men of this class never have been chosn as Presidential timber.

Men whose chief aim has been to disrupt their party have never succeeded in securing their own elevation. This has been clearly shown on more than one occasion in the history of the Republican party. In 1867 an apparently formidable movement was made to disrupt the Republican party and on its wreck to establish the National party. Although lead by men prominent in the halls of Congress and high in the councils of the country, the movement proved abortive and in the end almost ridiculous. The Horace Greeley movement of 1872 proved just such another example. So also was the great Mugwump crusade of 1884, which was engineered by some of the most influential men in the Republican party who went into it.

The great mass of the Republican voters of today will have but one leader. Their demand is that William H. Taft shall be the standard bearer of the party, to the end that the country may be assured of at least another four years of safe and sane guidance.

BUILDING MORE HOMES.

Men are building more and better homes now than ever before. That is, homes of moderate cost—homelike homes. Ornate grandure does not make a home. The chief reason that he builds more is that man has fallen out with his landlord. And, he is getting on more friendly terms with himself. The more man craves home, loves home, builds homes, and comprehends the great benefit of home to himself and those dependent upon him, the saner, more efficient, and the healthier and happier he bcomes.

Why not look at it this way? If your salary is $100 permonth, say to yourself, from now on it is going to be $90 per month. That you are going to figure your expenses in the future on the basis of a $90 salary. That extra $10 is going religiously in to the building and loan shares, so that when sickness, loss of position or death in the family, falls to your lot, as it is to others every day, you can bravely and honestly say: "Well, I'm prepared for it. I can stand it for a while, anyway."

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

George S. Walker, the "single" Commissioner under the new law, in his report to the Governor, states that during the year the assets of the 96 active building and loan association of the State has increased $2,084,836.39.

There are 34,865 members in these organizations, nearly one-half of which are women. Who says women can't save money and build homes.

There are nearly 16,000 borrowers. As an evidence of the help these insittutions are to the founders of small, modest homes, the average sized loan is given as $1375.

The number of new homes built through the aid of these associations during the year was 2398, making a total of homes built since 1893 of 35,100.

Will Assist at the Festival

William John Kohler, the Shakespearean actor, has kindly volunteered his services for the festival to be given at Germania hall Friday evening, October 6th, for the benefit of Mount Carmel church and school, on which occasion he will recite "Shamus O'Brien." Mr. Kohler is late of New York City and came here for his health. He spent the summer with his mother and sisters in Wellesley Park.

Adelson, a reliable San Francisco optician and optometrist who has successfully treated many residents of this city and vicinity, will be in Redwood at Ryan's drug store, where he will test eyes for glasses, on Monday next from 10 a. m., to 4 p. m. Local people who need the services of an optician should call on Mr. Adelson.

JUDGE BUCK SETS ASIDE VERDICT IN DOYLE CASE

That the jury that awarded the heirs of the John T. Doyle estate $120,000 for twelve acres of land here in a condemnation suit brought by the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. placed an excessive figure on the property, is the opinion of Superior Judge Buck, who on Thursday decided to grant the company a new trial unless a compromise was effected which sets the value of the land at $6,000 an acre in place of $10,000.

The Southern Pacific has been using the Doyle right of way for more than fifty years. The condemnation suitreveals the sagacity of the late John T. Doyle, who was one of the ablest lawyers in the state. In 1858 the railroad desired his property and he turned a clever legal trick by leasing it to them for a period of fifty years, which is the life of a corporation under the law of California.

In 1908 the attorneys of the company realized that Doyle had well considered his heirs and attempted to negotiate for the purchase of the right of way. No price could be agreed upon, with the result that the matter was brought into court. The price named by the jury was the figure sought by the estate.

John J. Doyle, one of the defendants yesterday filed his consent to the modification of the judgment in accordance with the order of Judge Buck. He agrees to take the sum of $38,672.05 instead of $64,453.46 given him by the jury that tried the case. It is understood that the other defendants will do likewise.

BOOSTERS WORKING FOR BETTER RATES

Development Association Will Continue Crusade for Fair Travel Treatment.

Confident in the belief that San Mateo county has one big opportunity staring it in the face in the efforts being made to secure lower transportation rates, the board of governors of the Development Association determined at their meeting on Tuesday night to force that advantage.

It will be done by carrying on a campaign for the passage of three amendments to the state constitution among the people of the county. and members of the Association, every booster being expected to start an endless chain among his friends for the passage of Assembly amendments 6 and 50 and Senate amendment 47 which will come up for adoption before the people of the state at the special election that will be held on October 10th. These amendments will enlarge the powers of the railroad commission and will offer an opportunity, not only to San Mateo county but to the state at large, to escape from the burden of dominating railroad influence which has born down on them so heavily for years past. As San Mateo county is vitally interested in this matter, it is believed that the voters of this section will roll up a handsome majority for the adoption of amendments mentioned.

The next booster meeting of the Association will be held at Halfmoon Bay on the evening of October 7th. Word received already from the coast side is to the effect that the people of that section are going to turn out en masse and it is expected that the meeting will be one of the best attended that the boosters have yet hid in their campaignof awakenment throughout the county. That this same campaign is being noticed throughout the state was evidenced in a particular way at the Governor's meeting when one of the members of the executive committee reported that a prominent clubman, who is a resident of San Mateo, had told him that the Association was doing such good work that he was going to double his monthly subscription.

The battle for lower transportation rates has been placed by the Association in the hands of Mr. Seth Mann, the prominent traffic attorney of San Francisco, with orders to press the same and with the united support of the county there can be but one ending of the fight against the discriminatory chargese of the Southern Pacific and that is victory for the boosters. A proposition advanced by W. G. Sawin of Lomita Park for the placing of a statue entitled "Commerce Civilizing the World," received the endorsement of the Board of Governors. Mr. Sawin proposes that the statue be erected near the Golden Gate, prveious to the exposition, the idea being that it serve as a companion piece to that in New York.

The treasurer's report showed that the sum of $1600 had been expended for the pastor's salary and incidental expenses and that the sum of $268 had been given to missions. The report also showthe different organizations of the church to be in excellent condition. Miss Clara Shelly was elected secretary for the twenty-second time, S. P. McCrea deacon, C. M. Pleasure Jaunt Has Sad Ending

Albert and Arthur Midgley, Noble Lincoln, Arthur Payne, Jas Logan and Arthur Eckstrom, composed a merry party that left last Sunday morning at 7 o'clock on their motorcycles for Livermore to attend the barbecue given by the Central Motorcycle Club of California. Little they dreamed of the terrible fate that awaited one of their number. The boys had a most delightful time and started from Livermore early in the afternoon, hoping to reach Menlo Park by sundown. They started out in two squads and Arthur Eckstrom and another comtheir lagging comrades. This was about 5 o'clock. It seems that he had turned his machine into the side of the road where others of the party were waiting. Albert Midgley one of those coming up from the rear, apparently lost control of his machine and without warning crashed into Eckstrom who was sitting astride his cycle with arms folded. Both men were thrown to the ground from the force of the collission, and when picked up Eckstrom was in an unconscious condition from which he did not rally, passing from this life at 9 o'clock that evening. His injuries were necessarily fatal, a broken neck and limb resulting from the collision.

Young Midgley was picked up unconscious and taken to the Peninsula hospital at Palo Alto. He suffered from some severe bruises about the head and body. However no bones were broken and he will soon be able to be around. He was home here the following day. The brought from the hospital to his home here the following day. The news of the death of his comrade has not yet been broken to him.

Eckstrom was employed at the blacksmith shop of E. L. Taylor on High street, Palo Alto, where he has worked at his trade for the last eleven months. His employer speaks in high terms of the young man whose fine qualities of character had won him many friends in this city.

He resided on University Heights with his parents and has always been known as a dutiful and loving son.

Eyewitnesses of the accident wish to say that maniacl speeding was not the cause of Sunday's fatality. The party had been traveling throughout the trip at a speed not exceeding forty miles an hour, and no attempts at shattering records had been made.

Young Eckstrom was cremated at Cypress Lawn Cemetery on Wednesday and those who were with him on the fatal trip were pall bearers. His parents are prostrated by the accident and refuse to be comforted or consoled.

RELIEF CORPS WOMEN REMEMBER BIRTHDAY.

One of the pleasantest of recent social affairs was the reception given Mrs. Lizzie Sampson last Tuesday afternoon by the ladies of George S. Evan's relief Corps at her home at the corner of East Bradford and Hamilton streets. Mrs. Sampson is one of the three surviving charter members of the corps—the remaining ones being Mrs. Sarah Fox and Mrs. Geraldine Frisbie—and the members of the corps took this method to extend to her their congratulations on the anniversary of her birth. Although the pleasant affair was held at her own home, it was a complete surprise to Mrs. Sampson, who had been invited to a neighbors while the visitors were assembling, and was later sent for to find the house occupied by about 30 of her fellow workers in the field of Grand Army relief.

After a very pleasant afternoon spent in social conversation, dainty refreshments which the ladies had provided were served, during which members of the corps extended their congratulations. As substantial evidences of the good wishes of her friends Mrs. Sampson was the recipient of a number of handsome presents, among these being a large bouquet of carnations, the collective gift of the corps.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON PANAMA CANAL.

The appearance of the Kemp Travel Tales of Panama and the Canal Zone at the Alhambra theatre on the night of Tuesday, October 3d, is sure to arouse unusual interest. There is no more timely a subject to the American people at large and particularly to the people of the Pacific Coast, than the great Panama Canal. Now comes the announcement that this city will be included in the itinerary of the noted travelers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Kemp, who are offering what has been pronounced the most complete and highly artistic series of motion pictures, showing the actual construction of the great canal in which work the United States has made remarkable success, where other nations found such great failure. The Canal Commission has given endorsement to the Kemps work and it was by special request that they were shown before the Senate and the House of Represnetatives. The Kemps have an offering that is not only intensely interesting but highly educational. Direct from a year's tour of Panama, the Kemps come here, and have recently scored a tremendous success in San Francisco where they have been seen no less than fifteen times.

The prices of seats will be 25c and 35c and are now on sale at Ryan's Drug Store.

Cares For Its Women Travelers

Care of its women travelers is one of the principal aims of the Southern Pacific Company and in pursuing the fulfillment of this policy the officials have recently placed uniformed maids upon all of the ferry steamers crossing San Francisco bay. Seasickness is sometimes the fate of the women travelers and the maids have already demonstrated their usefulness in this respect. The duties of these maids are to look out for the comforts of the women passengers. The uniform is for the purpose of identification and all that is required by the passengers is to request her services. At all of the large stations of the Southern Pacific Company uniformed maids are employed and they have proved to be a great comfort to the thousands of women travelers who patronize the lines of that company.

The student body of the San Mateo Union high school has arranged to hold a series of lectures and entertainments during the winter. The first number will be an address by United States Senator Thos. P. Gore, the blind statesman of Oklahoma, on October 23d.

SOUSA'S FAMOUS BAND TO PLAY AT STANFORD.

Music lovers of Redwood and the surrounding country will be pleased to learn that the music committee at Stanford University has arranged to have John Philip Sousa and his glorious band of sixty artists assisted by three eminent soloists appear at Assembly Hall at Stanford University on Friday night, October 6th. Trains schedules are now such that by leaving Redwood at 7:20 one can reach the hall in very good time and the concert will be over in time to let the people get the 10:53 train, returning.

Sousa has just completed a tour of the world with his big organization, something that no band has ever before attempted and he has met with the greatest success, the playing of the artists being a revelation to the critics.

Sousa never saves exense when arranging a tour. He employs the very finest musicians available and many of his men receive a salary over the one hundred dollar mark and this is weekly, too. He can readily claim to have a band of sixty first class artists.

STUDENTS DEBATE ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

The first debate of the school year was held at Sequoia Union High School on Friday afternoon, when the seniors and juniors argued the question, Resolved, "That life imprisonment, with a restrictive power of pardon on the Chief Executive, should be substituted for capital punishment." The affirmative was well handled by Ray Griffin and Miss Irene Dickey, '12, while Roy Woodhams and Henry Winkler, '12, presented the negative and won the decision of the judges, both sides showed most careful preparation and presented one of the most interesting debates given at the high school. The judges were the Rev. C. C. Kirtland, City Attorney Albert Mansfield and Robert Mantz, principal of the grammar school.

ACME QUALITY

If it's a surface to be painted, enameled, stained, varnished, or finished in any way, there's an Acme Quality Kind to fit the purpose.

5 Strong Reasons for Fall Painting

1. The wood is thoroughly dry.
Summer's sun has removed all moisture.
2. Paint penetrates deeper into dry wood.
The deeper it goes the better it holds.
3. Fall weather is warm, dry and dependable.
Little danger of cold, damp, rainy days, which endanger the durability of the paint.
4. Wet weather decays and destroys unprotected surfaces.
Lack of paint means unsightly and less valuable property.
5. Fall painting keeps out winter moisture.
The greatest enemy to the life and beauty of all structures.

Ask us about ACME QUALITY HOUSE PAINT. It insures the greatest protection and beauty, at the least cost per year of service. Questions cheerfully answered.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Redwood City Citizens Show the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. Read what a Redwood City citizen says:

Fred Haussler, 101 Stambaugh St., Redwood City Cal., says: "My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often result seriously if allowed to go unchecked. I was anxious to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at P. A. Ryan's Drug Store and their use completly removed my trouble. In July 1907 I publicly testified in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Doan's Kidney Pills."
